

Ann Vines

I'm running for AACO Secretary because my personal ethic is to give back to any organization that enriches or benefits my life. I firmly believe in not sitting idly by watching others do most of the work, and I make it a habit of not criticizing or complaining unless I'm willing to participate in solving whichever problem is bothering me. I know I don't want the responsibilities of the presidency or of handling money, but taking notes and organizing information is definitely in my wheelhouse!
